The Creation of the National Imagery and Mapping Agency: Congress's Role as Overseer (Paperback)

By Ph D Anne Daugherty Miles

Createspace Independent Publishing Platform, United States, 2016. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 254 x 178 mm.

Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . In October 2000, the National Imagery and Mapping Agency (NIMA) celebrated its fourth anniversary. That occasion marked a significant milestone for the newest member of the Intelligence Community. In the previous four years the leaders and people of NIMA had established an identity and culture for the agency and had defined and refined its vision and strategy. That is not to say that there are no more challenges for this organization. Like all government agencies, NIMA faces issues of downsizing and outsourcing, modernization, transformation and integration. However, in view of the agency's customer-sensitive plans for meeting these challenges, at the Agency's fourth annual customer conference General Henry H. Shelton, Chairman, Joint Chiefs of Staff, remarked, "NIMA has established itself as a key component in arming decisionmakers and operators with superior information and knowledge. NIMA's customer focus is the big reason that you've been such a success story in the four short years of your existence as a separate agency." During the spring and summer of 1995, I served as executive secretary of what was then...
