Excerpt: . . . information in their PARs. As agencies continue to enhance their measurement process and report on additional program components, it is likely the total improper payment estimate will increase. Lastly, we noted that while agencies reported improper payment estimates for their various programs and activities, only five agencies - consisting of nine programs - reported to some degree the amount of actual improper payments they expect to recover and how they will go about recovering them as part of their IPIA reporting. OMB guidance states that for program improper payment estimates exceeding 10 million, agencies must address this IPIA reporting requirement in their PARs. We would also point out that this separate reporting requirement is distinct and different from the recovery auditing reporting requirements OMB has outlined in its guidance for agencies to address in their PAR reporting. We discuss the Recovery Auditing Act and OMB reporting requirements later in this statement. We found that of the 78 programs with improper payments estimates, 47 reported improper payment estimates exceeding 10 million. Of...
