Not illustrated. 1921 Excerpt: .Master announced that a resolution would be presented changing the name of the Grand Lodge to Ontario. Originally the name Canada was sufficiently explicit, as Masonically it embraced both upper and lower Canada, and the maritime provinces, while now there are quite a number of Grand Lodges in Canada. However, we failed to find any later mention of the subject. In complimenting his Grand Officers he covered the whole field, omitting none, and wound up with: On reading over what I have written, I am hopeful that you, my brethren, as always heretofore, will judge indulgently. You know, at any rate, that the best interests of the Craft are close to my heart. Jealous am I of its good name. It may be at times I become too anxious, too nervous over trifles and too critical in my remarks. It has been said that an average man would soon obtain perfection if he followed the advice he hands out to his neighbors. I may indeed have forgotten my own shortcomings in presuming to offer advice to my brethren. We know not why Brother Freed quit the job, but Brother Brown s Salutation was: Most Worshipful Brother Freed s successor, before entering on the preparation of the report which follows, made himself familiar with Mother Freed s own writings, with the intention of following in his footsteps as nearly as possible. Something the pupil may perhaps have learned from the Master; but, to follow Brother Freed adequately,...
