The Empress Pulcheria INTRODUCTION THE AUGUSTA PULCHERIA It has been the fashion of late years to rescue the minor characters of history from the natural perspective of their times, and to write of them with disproportionate emphasis. Lest it should be thought that the present book is another effort of this kind, it is desirable to introduce the subject of it as befits her imperial rank. The fact that oblivion has fallen upon one character rather than upon another, in any given epoch, does not necessarily settle the question of importance. St. Pulcheria is forgotten in comparison with many personalities of her day, but as virtual Empress of the East Roman world from A.D. 414 to A.D. 453, she can scarcely be called a minor character. She was the eldest sister of the Emperor Theodosius II., Regent during his minority, first among his counsellors during his entire reign, and Empress in her own right on his death, she should occupy some niche in the temple of history. She was unanimously proclaimed Empress of the East in the year 450, and the Romans for the first time submitted to a female reign. A record of the life of the Augusta should be doubly interesting, since, in virtue of her supreme position, it brings us into contact with all the great men and events of a day singularly rich in historical import. It would be impossible to appreciate her, either as saint or sovereign, without...
