Brand New Book  Print on Demand .If there were an official position known as The Holocaust Expert, Ida Kramer would hold that title hands down. For over thirty years, Ida was the Quad Cities voice of Holocaust information for schools, civic groups and the community at large. Ida was born in Philadelphia to Jewish immigrants. Her father's twin sister did not immigrate to the USA and perished in the Holocaust as did many other family members. Little Ida was four when her baby sister was born. Roz and Ida lived with their parents in an area of town called Strawberry Mansion, named for a restaurant famous for serving strawberries and cream. Many Jewish families lived there and the girls had a very happy childhood. They knew only love and support with their mother, who was a seamstress, and their father, who was a tailor. When Ida was six, her father was hit and killed by a car. Both sisters attended a high school for gifted learners. Ida graduated high school at age 16 due to her high IQ and was offered a full scholarship to college. She refused so she could work and help make her mother's financial life easier. She married Herb Kramer, and they raised three children in the Quad Cities. Ida was relentless in her efforts to insure that students and teachers alike have the opportunity to meet Holocaust survivors face to face. While serving as the Executive Director of the Jewish Federation of the Quad Cities, she often visited public and private schools in nearby and outlying districts, accompanying survivors and helping them tell their stories, even when they had difficulty finding the words or...
