I LEST Order, which in power doth so excel, That with the one hand thou liftest to the sky, And with the other throwest down to hell In thy just censures; fain would I draw nigh; Fain put thee on, exchanging my lay sword For that of the holy word. But thou art fire, sacred and hallowd fire; And I but earth and clay: should I presume To wear thy habit, the severe attire My slender compositions might consume. I am both foul and brittle, much unfit To deal in holy Writ. Yet have I often seen, by cunning hand And force of fire, what curious things are made Of wretched earth. Where once I scornd to stand, That earth is fitted by the fire and trade Of...
